Matthew

Description:

Matt is your typical, cynical, late Generation X type. He believes 9/11 was an inside job and is convinced the Illuminati is out to establish the New World Order - an order that calls for depopulating the world down to 500,000 as per the Georgia Guidestones. He took the job as an investigator for Sinclair Investigation Services mainly to have access to do more research into the many things he already believes in. He is heavily influenced by the likes of Newton.
